SILVER MEN AND GOLDBUGS.

The money question is the paramount issue of the day in American politics. Every friend of the people in Congress admits that fact. Senators Stewart and Jones proclaim it in their speeches and only the gold trust and its tools deny it. The latter endeavor to divide the people on old issues and on tariff schedules so that the gold trust can more easily control them. They will not permit, if money can prevent it, a square fight on the silver question. They resort to trickery and duplicity to prevent this. Their agents in Nevada, presuming upon ignorance, tell the people that the Republican party is in favor of free coinage, when every vote on the silver question proves the contrary, and every prominent man in the party declares against silver remonetization. In Congress the goldbugs do not divide on party lines. In the Senate and House Republican and Democratic goldmen muster to defeat the passage of any bill that is favorable to silver or that is calculated to increase the volume of money in circulation. Sherman and Gorman, Reed and Harter, make common cause against Silver men, and give their united support to the financial policy of the Administration.

Here in Nevada the followers of Sherman and Reed and of Gorman and Harter, attempt to accomplish by duplicity what they could not hope to do openly and manfully. By professing for the time to be friends of silver, though some of them have publicly declared against free coinage, they hope to deceive the unsophisticated and possibly elect a part of the goldbug ticket next Fall. The Silver men understand their game, however, and are determined that no man who allies himself with a party whose leaders are among the most pronounced goldbugs, and nine-tenths of whose members in Congress have recorded their votes against silver, shall receive their support at the polls next November.

A PATRIOTIC CHURCHMAN.

Archbishop Ireland, who is one of the most learned and liberal churchmen, preached in the Cathedral at St Paul, Minnesota, last Saturday on "Foreign Nationalism in America." He said foreign nationalism must be kept in the background and give place in church and State to Americanism. St Patrick teaches this lesson; though not a native of Ireland he became a more thorough Irishman than most Irishmen. If St. Patrick was a Bishop in America to-day he would be the staunchest of American patriots and the most loyal of American citizens. American nationalism must be supreme in our civil and social affairs. On this continent has America admitted foreigners to citizenship. No political segregation of citizens on foreign lines can be allowed. It was wrong to have so-called Irish-American votes. No one should vote as an Irishman and seek an office as such. It is wrong in private life to cultivate the spirit of a foreign nationalism at the expense of American nationalism.

TWO PRESIDENTS, BUT ONE POLICY.

The Denver News says Senator Stewart makes it very clear that there is absolutely no difference between ex-President Harrison and President Cleveland on the money question, and he scores the Trinidad speech of the ex-President in a most caustic manner. It is a matter of two Presidents, but one policy.

The Sugar Trust, which by reason of the tariff on refined sugar cleared over $20,000,000 profit last year, is now reported as buying up all the raw sugar in the Cuban and Porto Rico markets. The Trust intends to have a large stock of sugar on hand before the Wilson bill takes effect, and it is said to be using money freely to secure an extra quarter of a cent per pound tariff on refined sugar. The Trust does not care whether raw sugar is on the free list or not. So long as there is a tariff on refined sugar it can fix the price of the article.

Down in Tennessee the Republicans do not have such a mortal antipathy to the Populists as in Nevada. In that State they are arranging for a combination to elect the Populists, while here, according to their organs and speakers, the Populists are the most detestable people on the face of the earth. It is no more inconsistent, however, for the Republicans to laud the Populists in one section and denounce them in another than it is for Nevada Republicans to say that the party is in favor of free coinage when only one member of it from east of the Missouri voted for the Seigniorage bill.

In the Supreme Court of California yesterday, Justices Beatty and De Haven presiding, argument was heard in the appeal case of M. H. Fox vs. the Hale & Norcross Mining Company and other defendants. Fox obtained judgment for over a million dollars in the Superior Court, San Francisco, and the defendants appealed.

The Seigniorage bill was sent to the President yesterday. He has ten days in which to approve or veto it, but if he fails to do either within that time it will become a law without his signature.

Governor Waite issued an order yesterday dismissing the militia at Cripple Creek to their houses.

THE TARIFF BILL.

NOT YET THROUGH WITH AMENDMENTS.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—The Democratic members of the Senate Finance Committee are making several amendments to the Tariff bill. It is understood that the clause abrogating the Hawaiian treaty will be stricken out. A change made in the sugar schedule will add one-eighth of a cent per pound on the color test so as to insure the return of that much protection.

These, with the restoration of the present law regarding the tax on domestic cigars, will be the principal changes made. The lead ore duty, with the tax on whisky and the duty on coal and iron ore, remain as placed in the bill by the Democratic members. There will be a few changes in the fruit schedule and a few minor articles which were taken from the free list and made dutiable will be restored to the free list. The bill, when it next sees light, will also show several changes in the Administrative part. The amendment inserted by the members of the committee providing for the repeal of the entire McKinley Act will be modified to either specify what portions of that Act shall remain in force or repeal the parts in conflict with the pending Act.

Other changes will be probably made and the bill will be submitted to the committee to-morrow.

DIPHTHERIA RAGING.

A Physician's Neglect Causes Many Deaths at Portland.

PORTLAND, OR., March 19.—Owing to the prevalence of diphtheria on the lower East Side, the Holladay School has been ordered closed by the Board of School Directors. The city physician examined into the matter and found the sanitary conditions perfect. The spread of the disease was due to the attending physician's negligence, who reported a fatal case of diphtheria as tonsilitis, and a brother of the deceased child was allowed to attend the school until taken down with the same disease. Several pupils have since died of diphtheria and nine are now sick.

Dr. George Jefferson, the physician who made the report in the first case, has been arrested for failure to report the disease to the Board of Health.

TRAIN WRECKED BY A SNOW-SLIDE.

SEATTLE, March 19.—A report was received to-night that a Great Northern freight train, which left Snohomish Saturday night, was struck by a snow-slide near Skykomish and swept over an embankment 150 feet high. Six men perished with the train. The train was said to have gone entirely out of sight in the valley.

TOVEY'S MURDERER CONVICTED.

JACKSON, March 19.—After three hours' deliberation the jury in the case of Evans, tried for the murder of Express Messenger Tovey last June, returned a verdict of murder in the first degree and fixed the punishment at imprisonment for life. Three ballots were taken before the verdict was agreed upon.

SAVED HER LIFE.

Mrs. C. J. Woollenham of Wortham, Texas, saved the life of her child by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

One of my children had Croup. The use was attended by our physician and the nurse who was in charge of control. One night I was startled by the child's hard breathing, and on going to it found it strangled. I immediately applied Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Realizing that the child's air-hunger condition had become possible in spite of the medicines, even though I had been giving a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house, I gave the child three doses of short interval. After the first dose, the child began to breathe easier, and in a short time, she was able to get out of bed and walk. The child is alive and well to-day, and I do not hesitate to say that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved her life."

REPUBLICANS AND FREE COINAGE.

The Party Irreconcilably Opposed to Silver—Why Should Europe Want the Price of Silver Enhanced?—We Must Insist on Independent Action.

EUREKA, March 16, 1894.

EDITOR JOURNAL.—Mr. Bartine said at the "rally" "My opinion is that our hope and our only immediate hope lies with the Republican party."

Now is every candid Republican is there any "immediate hope" for favorable silver legislation from the Republican party? All the Republican members of the Lower House of Congress, except thirteen, are against any and all "favorable silver legislation." In nearly every Republican convention to nominate candidates for Congress next fall resolutions will be adopted unfavorable to silver. Candidates will be nominated for Congress to vote against free coinage who in their speeches will deride silver from every stump during their canvass. All or practically all of the Republican newspapers will denounce free coinage and its advocates. The next Republican National Convention will adopt a plank in its platform against free coinage. McKinley or some other equally bitter foe of silver will be nominated for President, and in the event of the success of the Republican party at the next Presidential election free coinage and all other favorable silver legislation will be postponed for four years from the 4th of March, 1897, seven years from the present time. For seven years more we are to be "hewers of wood and drawers of water" for the East under a high tariff that draws ten dollars out of our pockets when it puts coin in. Seven years, the exact time Jacob served Laban for his daughter Rachel, and after serving the Republican party another seven years we would be treated infinitely worse by our task masters than Laban treated Jacob.

But seriously, my Republican friends, do you think that Mr. Bartine really believes that our only hope for favorable silver legislation is in the Republican party? Candidly, do you not think that this view was conjured up in the brain of a politician imbued by partisan zeal born of ambitious hopes, a zeal that led him to express a hope that had no deeper seat than his lips.

Mr. Bartine devotes some space to speculation as to what the result would have been if ex-President Harrison had been elected. The position of Mr. Harrison on the silver question is well known of all men. He is opposed to free coinage unless it can be brought about by international agreement. Senator Hoar and all of that class of goldbugs profess the same views. In other words they are opposed to the independence of the United States financially, but they prate patriotically about an American system when talking on tariff and the industrial independence of this country.

These men are the most dangerous enemies silver has. There is no hope of an international agreement for free coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1. Why should nations that produce no silver agree to take the silver of this and other silver producing countries at $1 29 20 an ounce when they can buy it for seventy cents, and by simply placing the government stamp upon it make it worth $1 33 an ounce? It is absurd. The sooner international conferences are abandoned the better for us. The sooner we realize that ex-President Harrison, Senators Hoar, Allison and others expressing like views are our most dangerous enemies the better for us. What we must insist upon, if we expect to accomplish anything, is independent free coinage by the United States at the ratio of 16 to 1. No more compromises, no more international humbug conferences, gotten up to delay silver legislation, and for no other purpose.

The battle is on, our cause is just, men of courage to the front, let the faint-hearted and camp-followers return to the rear. We want none in our ranks who stop to count noses before taking sides.

"Who would be a traitor knave let him turn and flee."

THOS. WHEEN.

The "Student Record."

The Student Record of March 15th is an exceedingly handsome number. It contains twenty-two pages of well-written matter and seventeen fine engravings. One of the principal article is "The Nevada State University," by Professor F. H. Hillman, in which the various departments are described and illustrated. Professor N. E. Wilson also furnishes an interesting article on "Nevada at the World's Fair." It also contains intelligent editorial comment and several pages of miscellaneous and local matter. A large edition of the Record was published, but it is doubtful if the number printed will equal the demand for the paper.

The Masquerade.

Only a small number attended the masquerade ball last evening, being largely due to the fact that this is the Holy week of Lent and many stayed away on that account. There were about forty persons present, of whom but six were in mask. They, however, had a good time and enjoyed the dancing.

"Ole Olson."

The play of "Ole Olson," as it stands alone, possesses attractive features enough to thoroughly satisfy the most exacting audience. Yet the management, in order to increase the pleasure of all who go to witness the performance, has interpolated some singing and dancing specialties that are not excelled by any company before the public.

SAN FRANCISCO MEAT MARKET.

The Ruling Prices at Butchertown Last Week.

The Live Stock and Butchers' Gazette has the following relative to the San Francisco meat market last week:

Prices are very easy at Butchertown this week, and all descriptions of meat are lower. Large buyers have things much their own way. Good stock of all kinds is plentiful. Sheep are in fine condition.

Calves are lower, as are also butchers' dressed hogs.

The opinion expressed by men who should know, that fat cattle will not advance for some weeks, seems by this week's experience to be confirmed, though few expected this decline.

Following are the prices quoted:

	Per lb.
Steers, first quality, very choice	5 to 6
Steers, No. 1	4 1/2 to 5
Steers, second quality, good	4 to 4 1/2
Steers, third quality, fair	3 1/2 to 4
Extra choice cows and heifers	4 to 5
Good	4 to 4 1/2
Bulls, stags and cows	1 1/2 to 2 1/2
Choice runge calves	5 to 6

MALICIOUS MISCHIEF.

A Drive Which Led to a Reprimand by Judge Linn.

Last evening Mr. E. W. Taylor left his horse and cart at the Opera House while he went in to hear Evangelist Crittenton. A little before 8 o'clock two young men about town concluded to take a ride, and not having a carriage of their own unhitched Mr. Taylor's horse and started out. In the mean time Mr. Taylor came out of the meeting and found his horse and cart missing. He hunted up Constable Dickey and the two soon discovered the boys, who were having a gay time. They gave chase in a lively manner down Virginia street, the boys seemingly unconscious that they were pursued. They were caught just as they were in the act of tying the horse at the place they got him from. While the young men only meant to have a little fun the law defines the act as malicious mischief. Judge Linn when they were brought before him reprimanded them and they were allowed to go free as Mr. Taylor did not wish to press the matter farther.
